OTHELLO WINS HANDICAP

J. W. GOLDBLATT'S SPRINTER AGAIN STAYS SEVEN-EIGHTHS OF MILE AT JUAREZ.

Summertime Weather Prevails and Many Visit Mexican Course—Aunt Sal in Another Smart Performance—Racing Bill Up in Arizona.

El Paso, Tex., February 16.—A card of better than average quality was decided at Juarez this afternoon. Summertime weather prevailed and it being ladies' day, the crowd that made the trip across the Rio Grande to the beautiful course of the Jockey Club Juarez was a large one.

The Purral Handicap, for three-year-olds and over, seven-eighths of a mile, was the particular feature of the day's racing. It drew a field of seven to the post, with Othello and Charmaine, coupled as the J. W. Goldblatt entry, ruling first choice. The former, displaying his usual high turn of speed, led victoriously from the beginning and obtained an advantage of several lengths in the early running, which proved sufficient to enable him to win when Excelsior came along with a challenge at the end. T. H. Ryan's Roadmaster, making his debut for the season, was one of the choices and finished a close up third. He probably will have to be reckoned with in the best of company in future starts here.

The two-year-old race was regarded as strictly between C. W. Clark's Aunt Sal and Mrs. J. Shilling's Baby Girl. In spite of the weight concessions the latter was outpacing to make, he was generally held in greater esteem, but when it came to the running the Clark filly led all the way and the favorite barely outlasted the 60 to 1 chance, Beehive. Ida Plunk, backed down from 40 to 1 to 15 to 1, led from start to finish in the second race, but had a winning margin of only a neck over Vesta. Trilane, in the Ripley stable, making her first start of the season, was a receding favorite, and ran fairly well for the first time out in many months, barely failing to place. The third race also produced a winner at lucrative odds in the 8 to 1 chance, Lehigh.

The rejuvenated Seneca was regarded as outclassing his opposition in the fifth and ruled at odds-on. He was outpacing in the early running, but got to the front in the stretch and went on to a handy victory over Mahanese. The race at the end of the card resulted in victory for First Star, another favorite.

The stake blanks for the Havre de Grace spring meeting arrived today and were distributed by Al Barlow among the horsemen.

Gene Elrod, telegraphic request from Judge McGill of Phoenix, a member of the Arizona legislature, asking for the by-laws of the Kentucky State Racing Commission. He is fathering a racing bill in his state. The data requested was sent at once.

J. S. McBride left today for Havana, taking with him Clark M. and a couple of other racers of lesser note.

MACMANUS STRING TO BE TAKEN UP.

Lexington, Ky., February 16, James MacManus came over from Louisville today to arrange for the stringing of the morning of eight races at Douglas Park, where they are to join five two-year-olds in preparation for spring racing. The eight have been running out all winter at Reamont farm. They are Belle, Robinetta, O'Sullivan, Presumption, Chesterton, Mendo Park, Ed Edge, and the two-year-old chestnut colt by Knight of the Thistle—Tardy. The five at Douglas Park are two-year-olds, as follows: Tatiana, ch. f. by Czar—Marsara; bay colt by Grandale—Diplodactyl; bay colt by Ossary—Tender; bay colt by Under—Madam Junot; and brown colt by Trap Rock—Africa.

Mr. MacManus thinks well of his two-year-olds, especially of the Ossary colt, which he bought for less than any other in the collection. He paid only $250 for this fellow and believes he is going to be a galloping good race horse. For the Trap Rock and Grandale colts he paid $1,000 each, and for the Ossary colt, the last of the set of ornamented sires, he paid $1,000. Tatiana cost him $300, and the four colts $1,000. Mr. MacManus is in some doubt about Belle's training, but he has decided to put a saddle on him before July. Belle's trouble was a bowed tendon.

J. C. Milne returned last night from New Orleans praising the meeting at the Fair Grounds and its management. He says he never in his life saw better winter racing or better attendance at a winter track. He thinks the Fair is probably the best horse he saw at New Orleans.

L. W. Helmer, of New York, is here, having come with John E. Madden. He visited Louisville yesterday and spent today looking at some of the young racing material hereabouts.

SPORTSMAN'S DINNER FOR PHILADELPHIA.

Philadelphia, Pa., February 16.—An unusual gathering of horsemen will take place on March 4 in the form of a dinner at the Ritz Carlton Hotel, which will not only include practically all of the Philadelphia horsemen, but many from other cities and of national reputation. The object of the dinner will be to discuss the respective engagements of local racing conditions and, in general, the promotion of

RACING CAREER OF THE KING'S PLATE WINNER OF LAST YEAR

In the racing of 1913 and 1914 B. Giddings was greatly favored by Dame Fortune. If there is one thing that lies closer to the heart of the Canadian turfman than all other things in a racing way it is the hope that in some happy year he will experience the exulting joy of leading a King's Plate winner back to the judges' stand. That pitiful experience fell to Mr. Giddings in both of the years named and in both with winners of his own breeding, Hearts of Oak triumphing for him in 1913 and Beehive in 1914. Both were sons of his St. Simon stallion, Bassettaw, and a credit to Canadian breeding.

When a two-year-old Beehive gave a certain inkling of what might be expected from him in the future by winning every one of the six races in which he was started. His introduction to racing took place at Woodbine Park, Toronto, May 26, 1913, in a half-mile dash, which he won from twelve opponents in 48½, and in doing so made a new track record for the distance. So great was his private reputation that he went to the post a 75 to 100 favorite, but, getting away from the post somewhat slowly, was only able to get up in time to defeat the Seagram filly, Dark Rosebud, by a head. He carried 110 pounds to her 107. Two days later, in the Coronation Stakes, at four and a half furlongs, he carried 121 pounds to her 115 and defeated her again, but this time by five lengths in 55½. Slipper Day was third, ten others ran unplaced and it was an excellent race. May 31, in a purse race at five-eighths of a mile, he was at 1 to 10 in the betting, with Melissen second and Alal Bass third. His next start was in a purse race at Hamilton, June 27, over a half-furlong, which he won from Slipper Day, carrying 115 pounds to her 107. His next start was in a purse race at Hamilton, June 27, over a half-furlong, which he won from Slipper Day, carrying 115 pounds to her 107. His next start was in a purse race at Hamilton, June 27, over a half-furlong, which he won from Slipper Day, carrying 115 pounds to her 107.

Beehive thrived lustily in his winter retirement. Everybody in Canada interested knew this. So when the eventful day for the fifty-fifth running of the King's Plate arrived it was but the natural reflex of public opinion that he should be the proverbial "prohibitive" favorite for the big race. One effect of this general concession of the race to him in advance was a much smaller field than had as a rule contested for the opening day of the Ontario Jockey Club's spring meeting, at Woodbine Park, May 26, 1914. There were only eight going to the post, of which J. E. Seagram started three. The race, as usual, occurred on the opening day of the Ontario Jockey Club's spring meeting, at Woodbine Park, May 26, 1914. There were only eight going to the post, of which J. E. Seagram started three. The race, as usual, occurred on the opening day of the Ontario Jockey Club's spring meeting, at Woodbine Park, May 26, 1914. There were only eight going to the post, of which J. E. Seagram started three. The race, as usual, occurred on the opening day of the Ontario Jockey Club's spring meeting, at Woodbine Park, May 26, 1914.

His first experience of defeat came with the running of his next race. This was in the Dominion Plate of a mile and an eighth, at Hamilton, June 30. Possibly he had been indulged too much in the month that had elapsed since his last race. At any rate he ran a poor race for him. He carried 123 pounds. The four-year-old winner, Crystalline, had up 117 pounds and won by ten lengths in 1:50½. Another four-year-old, Mausolus, carrying 100 pounds, was second a half length in advance of Beehive, which also finished third in his next essay. This was at Fort Erie, July 1, when, in an attempt to give away much weight in a purse race at three-quarters of a mile, he failed, but ran a good race in carrying 122 pounds and finishing a close third to Moss Fox, 101 pounds, and Capricious, 103. Then he took up the winning habit again. At Windsor, July 16, over a slow track, he defeated Moss Fox, Mausolus and two more in a purse race at a mile in 1:44½. July 25 he won a purse at Hamilton at a mile and a sixteenth in 1:48½. In this he carried 123 pounds to 95 on Mr. Seagram's Sea Lord and, at the difference in weights, he was thought to possess such a good chance to defeat him that the mounted spectacle of even money on offer against him was a feature of the occasion. But he won easily by a length and a half, with Sea Lord second and Backspring third. Next, at Fort Erie, August 8, he finished last in a four-horse race. It was a purse race at a mile and a half, in which he undertook to give considerable weight to two of his own age and not at his best that day from the fact that the four horses he was the outsider in the betting. The winners were Private Petal, 107 pounds; Moving Picture, 101; Marhan, 90½, and Beehive, 112. It was a fast run race, Private Petal covering the first mile in 1:38½ and the distance in 1:42½.

Probably this race was beneficial to Beehive. Anyhow he won his next three races. The first of these was the Canadian Handicap, at Windsor, August 20, distance one mile and track heavy. He carried 126 pounds and won by three-quarters of a length from Marhan 90½, and Beehive 112. The fall meeting at Woodbine Park closed his account for the year. There, on September 19, with 125 pounds up, he easily won the Stanley Produce Stakes, at a mile and an eighth in 2:08½. Four Broom, 122 pounds, was second, Vastatio, 107, third, and Sea Lord, 116, unplaced. This was on the first day of the meeting and two days later he took his last start. He was thought to be at his best that day from the fact that the four horses he was the outsider in the betting. The winners were Private Petal, 107 pounds; Moving Picture, 101; Marhan, 90½, and Beehive, 112. It was a fast run race, Private Petal covering the first mile in 1:38½ and the distance in 1:42½.

HAS A GLORIOUS ENDING

RACING SEASON AT NEW ORLEANS COMES TO CLOSE IN AUSPICIOUS FASHION.

Biggest Crowd of the Season Gathers at the Fair Grounds for Final Day of Meeting—Management Well Satisfied with Results.

New Orleans, La., February 16.—The Business Men's Racing Association's inaugural race meeting, which began January 1, terminated this afternoon in the proverbial blaze of glory. The crowd was the largest that has witnessed the sport here. It included, in addition to many of the Mardi Gras visitors, some of the most representative people of the city. The fair sex took liberal advantage of the management's invitation and made the occasion a memorable one. The meeting just brought to a close has been a remarkable one in many respects. Financially it surpassed even the most sanguine expectations of the Business Men's Racing Association. It has popularized the sport greatly and created a desire for it which augurs well for its future. The chief drawback, a scarcity of really good racing material, was overlooked in the general feeling of joy that the greatest of outdoor sports was again to be witnessed in this city. Next season it is almost certain that the management will be in a position to attract the best of material. They figure on a general desire on the part of owners with the better grade of racers to take part in the sport here, according to advices already received. That some of the owners who took part in the sport during the present term of racing will be denied stabling room is also a foregone conclusion, according to rumor.

The gateway-day card arranged by Secretary McLennan was a difficult one and engaged only ordinary racers with the exception of the five and a half furlong dash that was fifth on the card. It resulted in a big upset when Chartier, who in previous starts had been showing poor form, led a fairly good band from the rise of the barrier and won in a romp. The handicap at one mile and a sixteenth resulted in a sensational finish, with Stick Pin the winner by a nose over Reno, and Mary Ann K. only a head further away. Mary Ann K. was best in the race and would have won but for Goose's blunder in getting caught in a trap in the stretch. Test was a surprise here, according to the South end. Farrar connections to profit when she romped home in front. Serenata and Sunno battled it out desperately in the second and landed noses apart. Birka, which in a previous start was subjected to weird handling by Murphy, showed her true form under improved handling. Lady Louie, who had been out of the sport since her defeat by Lady Louie, won the race by a head over Lady Louie. The race was won by Lady Louie, who won the race by a head over Lady Louie.

Most of the easterners will depart forthwith. Included among those departing for New York tonight are E. J. Ryan and his party, Rod McMahon and his staff, Leo Mayer and his assistants, Sol Lightenstein, Sam Bradley and others.

Commenting on the withdrawal of Joe Heddon by his order from yesterday's racing Judge Murphy said: "As long as the Business Men's Racing Association remains intact, entries from the south will be refused here." Judge Murphy also stated that all establishments known as betting stables will be denied stabling room at the course next season. Starter Hade will depart for his home in Hendersonville, Ky., and remain there until the opening of the Bowie meeting.

Rodondo was sold just before the closing dash to J. P. Hanson for a reported price of $400.

Manager Murphy, at the conclusion of the racing, issued the following statement: "In retrospect there is nothing but satisfaction. On behalf of my fellow officials, the horsemen and myself, I desire to thank the public, the press and in fact everybody for the uniform southern welcome and it is no wonder that everybody loves the south and New Orleans in particular. As to the future, I can say only that it is full of promise. It is too early to outline a definite policy in view of the colossal task ahead. I am not a dreamer and I am not looking for a promoter's fee and the big problem must be thought out carefully and no mistakes made. I always remember the immortal words of Hevey at Manila when he said: 'When you are ready Gridley, you may fire, I want to string with Gridley.' This shows that he was certainly ready before he fired, and when New Orleans shoots again at the establishment of the greatest fair the south has ever known and the creation at the Fair Grounds of an institution that will be one of the show places of the world, I want it to hit the target plum in the center."

TEST VOTE IN ARKANSAS SENATE.

Effort to Kill Sawyer Racing Bill Fails by Vote of 20 to 14 in Upper Branch of Legislature.

Little Rock, Ark., February 16.—Efforts to kill the Sawyer bill designed to re-establish racing at Hot Springs and providing for pari-mutuel betting, were defeated in the upper branch of the Arkansas legislature this afternoon, when by a vote of 20 to 14 the senate refused to postpone indefinitely further consideration of the bill.

Senator Calhoun moved the indefinite postponement and more than three hours was consumed in debate upon the subject.

The bill has been passed by the house and has been read twice in the senate.

After its second reading this afternoon it was referred to the agricultural committee.

FRENCH-BRED STALLION IN AUSTRALIA.

During a visit to England about three years ago Mr. Dolette, of Australia, decided to take out a stallion with a view to founding a stud later on. Ultimately his choice fell upon Monitor, which was regarded as the best horse available at that time, and he secured him from Mr. S. Joel. At the end of his three-year-old career Mr. Joel purchased Monitor from his French owner for 6000 guineas, but he carried his colors only once in England, as he broke down while running in the City and Suburban Handicap won by White Eagle. He sprung a tendon and could not race again. As Mr. Joel had no use for a stallion at that time and Monitor was offered to Mr. Dolette, who accepted him. Monitor landed in Western Australia in 1911. His first crop of youngsters are now yearlings, and South Australian fans who possess Monitor yearlings are very enthusiastic regarding them. Mr. Dolette has one, a filly from the imported mare Blue Dross, of which he holds a high opinion. She is a well-grown, beautifully turned brown filly, possessing fine galloping length, and if she may be taken as a sample of Monitor's progeny, he is destined to succeed at the stud. He is a chestnut horse by Coloman—Magdala, and was foaled in 1905.

GENERAL NEWS NOTES OF THE DAY.

The caucus of the house Democrats, called to consider the administration ship bill, adopted a resolution endorsing the measure proposed by President Wilson, by a vote of 154 to 29. Seventeen Democrats in the caucus announced their intention of voting against the bill despite the caucus action, taking advantage of exceptions granted under the caucus rules. The bill which will be presented to the house with the approval of the party organization provides for permanent government ownership of merchant vessels. Amendments offered providing for temporary ownership of merchant vessels were defeated. The bill as it will go to the house creates a shipping board which is empowered to purchase and operate ships in trade. At the end of two years the shipping board will go out of business and all of its powers and property will be absorbed by the secretary of the navy. That official may thereafter use the ships as naval auxiliaries or operate them in the merchant service, in his discretion, subject only to the approval of the president. The bill as approved by the caucus limits the expenditures under the law to $10,000,000.

Practically all the foreign diplomatic representatives in Mexico City have been instructed by their governments to use their own discretion about leaving the capital, according to announcement by Secretary Bryan. Some of the embassies at Washington understand that the diplomats in Mexico City have an agreement that if they leave Mexico City they will leave the country entirely. The situation has been further complicated by the decree of General Carranza that none of his subordinate military chiefs shall discuss diplomatic questions. This deprives the diplomatic corps at Mexico City of the privilege of dealing with General Obregon or the de facto authorities in Mexico City.

A plot against the life of John D. Rockefeller and his son, John D. Rockefeller, Jr., which was to have been carried out at the Rockefeller Tarrytown estate following the battle of Lindbergh, but which was thwarted by the premature explosion of the bomb and the death of three of the conspirators in the Lexington avenue horror in New York last July has been admitted by Alexander Berkman, anarchist.

Gambling has been resumed at Monte Carlo after four and a half months of enforced inactivity. There is no gold shining on the green cloth; heavy checks have taken their places. The revival, however, has not sufficed to restore the season's usual animation to the town. The hotels are virtually empty.

China, it is said, has rejected the demands of Japan, twenty-one in number, and has told her powerful far eastern neighbor that she must take by force what she wants if she gets it at all. In the event of trouble the Peking government will turn to the United States for aid, says a cable from Peking.

The New Jersey senate passed the woman suffrage amendment to the state constitution, 17 to 4. The house passed the resolution two weeks ago, and both houses having acted favorably on the resolution last year, the question will be submitted to the voters for acceptance or rejection in September.

Renewed earthquake shocks occurred in portions of the district in central Italy visited by seismic disturbances several weeks ago, and there was some further loss of life and property damage.
